From the Editor...

I know that many of you are just as busy as I am. This spring is nuts!

6-7 weeks in March and April getting ready for a PHENOMINAL Denis Charbonneau Memorial Swap Meet and Auction where we set a record for our donation to the World Scout Brotherhood Fund. Weekend Camp, a ditch cleanup and a few meetings with my Rover Crew. World Jamboree, Ontario Pre-Camp held during D.I.B.C. Weekend at Cole Canoe Base <https://colec canoebase.com/> cooking for 150 of my fellow B.S.A. members (I'm a cross border Scouter) getting the camp ready for summer. Then, a week back at Cole as a Camp Commissioner and then summer brings on the 19TH World Scout Jamboree where I'll be I.S.T. working at the Staff Feeding tent.

WOW! I need a vacation!

What I really need is content for the magazine. Very few are sending me anything. I can't just pull content out of the thin air.....

Badge Chatter

Greetings from the cataloguer! This issue I have also heard from several badgers about new or old issues including Mike Assef, Don Connors, Michael Diegel, Steve Kavanagh, Peeter Tammark, Glen Wright and Ed Ermel. My apologies to those not personally mentioned here.

Some of the above contacts were at the Denis Charbonneau Memorial Swap Meet and Auction held in Montreal. Once again it was a great event and I very much enjoyed meeting folk and trading badges. If you have not been, might I suggest you make it a point to go next year

One of the most interesting badges seen the past while was from Mike Assef. It is a Quebec provincial badge without the horizontal bar. Mike had two of these badges – both mint. I have done a lot of checking and consultation on this badge. None of our Regional Reps have seen it before, nor has Glen Wright who has seen many a Quebec badge over the years. I suspect it is a reject sample badge. I say this partly on the basis of the only ones seen being mint (i.e. not in a worn condition), no appearance of a thread break and a big question on why you would have the vertical lines without a joining horizontal line. Anyway, the door is not closed re listing and if anyone else has seen this, particularly on a uniform, I would be very interested to know about it.

NS P1D (52x68 mm)

NS P1F (51x72 mm)

Another badge, this time listed, that I am wondering about is the Pictou badge NS P1D and NS P1F. If you look at the catalogue listing you will see that the difference is in size only. With the first few runs this listing distinction may have been appropriate but I think that further runs have muddled the matter and there is a range of sizes between the D and F. (The P1E badge, by the way, seems to be distinct.) Given this, one listing for the D (and delisting the F) stating the range in sizes might be appropriate. Please dig out your rulers and measure your D and F badges for me (mint ones only please) and let me know your sizes. Thanks.

At the Montreal Swap Meet I was lucky enough to pick up a Newfoundland “Camp” badge from 2007. It just so happens this fits the sequence pattern for other NL Jamborees and it is also the right length of time compared to other NL Jamborees. I suspect we should list this. The same goes for the 1st Newfoundland “Boy Scout Camporee” 1857-1957 badge shown in an earlier edition of The Canadian Badger Magazine. Does anyone know more about this?

Before I close, I thought I would share an interesting badge that Frank Smith recently acquired.

It is BC Coquitlam but with a brown binding! No doubt a very unique badge but alas not listable. (Frank knew this right away but it was nice of him to share this with me.) Some years ago when badges were made it was fairly common practice for test runs of badges to be put out with the manufacturer using any spool colour readily available to do the binding. I have seen other such oddities. Maybe you have too?

I thank all who bring new badges to my attention. Keep it up! Please contact me with your finds or answers to questions at: ennisgl@telus.net.

I want to once again thank the Club's Regional Reps; Bill Thow, Michael Diegel, Chris Wootton, Steve Kavanagh, Robert Schmitt and Rheal Duchesne. A special thanks to Don Connors who has taken on the position of Regional Badge Rep for the Maritimes. Welcome to the group Don.

The DENIS CHARBONNEAU MEMORIAL SWAP MEET & AUCTION

This year's drive to Laval was MUCH less terrifying than last years. No snow, no drifts, no ice, no tractor/trailers strewn along the highway. We actually made good time in the beautiful sunshine.

Eric and Louise opened their home to our use once more. I love getting together with my French Family. It's always like coming home.

We were back to our original weekend and our original hotel, albeit a change in name to Embassy Suites from Quality Suites. The remodel was quite nice and the restaurant was a few steps above what we had before.

The highlight was the donation of 2 of Chris Greens campfire blankets by her Granddaughter. Each of them seeing the bidding go to $275 and $300 for them.

We continued this year with a special thanks to 3 individuals that have gone "Above and Beyond" in their support of this great cause. Special mention to Linda Aug who is always a generous supporter of the Auction. Bronze award went to Steve Kavanaugh, in recognition of his generous donation, silver to John Butters, in recognition of his very generous donation and gold to John Witham, in recognition of his exceptional donation to The Denis Charbonneau Memorial Swap Meet and Auction. Along with the framed award is a "one of a kind" Auction Badge.

This year, our 42ND, we raised a record $5532.00 for the World Brotherhood fund. That is a phenomenal accomplishment that everyone involved need to be very proud of. With this year, our grand total is $100,615.98. Words just can't describe the elation of the team.

Next year's date has been set and the hotel has been booked. April 24-25, 2020

Now accepting your generous donations. 😊

Regional Badge Rep. Reports

Prairie Badge Rep

As many of you do I had to restock a few badges and so I ordered single copies of a few from the Regina Scout Shop this spring. When I received my order I checked with my existing stock and all was the same until I came to Great Plains. The badge I had received was smaller and had a different backing, plus a few other noticeable differences. Once seeing this I regretted only ordering one. Sadly our Regina Scout Shop is closing this July, along with the Edmonton Scout shop leaving only a shop in Calgary and e-commerce. ☹️ If you are heading into any of the shops which are closing remember to thank to staff for their service and dedication to Scouting.

So, remember to check those new badges because you never know when you might find a new one.

Canadian Badgers Club Website Report

June 2019

The Executive Committee of the CBC has decided to implement some changes to the website to create further value in being a member. Steps will be taken and implemented in the period following June 1, 2019 to restrict the Gallery images of the Catalogued/Listed Badges to paid members only.

When fully implemented, paid members will have to logon to the Gallery when wanting to view Catalogued/Listed Badges. Non-Members will not be able to access this category of badges. This implementation will prevent our images being used to create an unauthorized list of badges.

There are 263 albums to be restricted and they will need to be restricted individually by the webmaster. The process will begin with the NAT albums all the way through to the BPSAC album.

At this time the Uncatalogued category will remain open to the public.

Badge trading by Gord Ennis

I love Scout Jamborees. Probably, this is why, over the years, I have attended 16 of them. This includes BC, Canadian and World Scout Jamborees.

The energy of so many scouts and leaders from so many places is catching and uplifting. Without a doubt the most moving time I had at a Jamboree was in Chile in 1999 during the march-in to the opening. Each country came in their national uniforms and given there were 133 Countries and Protectorates attending it was an amazing diversity of costumes and chants. The dust was raised in a very good way.

The first several jamborees I attended was as a Troop Scouter. I have great memories of scouts having fun at events that were often unbelievable in terms of excitement. I have funny little memories too. Like at the time at the BC Jamboree at Camp Barnard at Sooke in 1987 that after an overnight hike and sleep out in the open I saw the distinctive trail of a slug on my cap when I woke up! And then there was the Canadian Jamboree at Kananaskis when we woke up to a very cold frost. My co-leader had a separate tent and, well, he liked to sleep in and delayed getting up till the last minute. Unfortunately for him his tent zipper had frozen shut. I am not sure he appreciated me laughing at him as he struggled while dancing as best he could in a low tent.

I attended several Jamborees as an Offer-Of-Service Scouter. Several were as members of Environment Display teams; some organised by Environment Canada (who I worked for as a Biologist in the 1970's) and others, such as the World Jamboree, by the Jamboree itself. During all this time I got quite involved in Badge Trading and Collecting. This grew out of how easy it is to meet new Scouters or youth when you have a purpose such as trading or giving away a badge. So, I guess it was natural that I became part of Badge Display Teams at the last several jamborees I attended. Ensuring the golden rule takes place during trades, helping those who misplace their badges (there are always several – both youth and adults) and just trying to avoid chaos keeps one busy. At the Canadian Jamboree at Sylvan Lake in 2013 we had up to 900 scouts and adults trading badges in the evening. It was a dinosaur theme at that jamboree and the police drove golf carts they named Coposaurus (!) and they actually counted the badge-trading crowd on a few evening so the number is accurate and reflects how popular badge trading is. At each jamboree we have a badge board with a draw and all the monies going to the World Brotherhood Fund. The other activity I am involved in is the Canadian Badgers Club and as a club we have raised over $95,000 for The World Brotherhood Fund.
