From the Editor...

Just want to confirm with everyone that the Denis Charbonneau Memorial Swap Meet and Auction that was planned for April 29 & 30, 2022 in Montreal has been cancelled for this year. We had to make the difficult decision early as we have many participants that have to confirm their flights. Rest assured, you won't miss any of the action as an online auction has been prepared with 100 lots and will be arriving to your email or mailbox shortly. The date for the 2023 auction has been set for April 28 & 29 at the Hilton. Please remember that this auction runs on your donations, accepted year round.

We will be having our AGM this year in an online Zoom format.

A couple of nice tidbits added in this issue. Michael Deigel shared an article from the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Canada about the first use of NAT.7.A. (still need it). Lot 95 from the upcoming DCMSM&A auction is a booklet from the 1966 Quebec Queen's Scout presentation ceremony. Longtime member, Peeter Tammark is in there. He shared a newspaper article.

I was lucky enough to attend the London Swap Meet 3 weeks ago. Great turnout with everyone all masked up. I was in the right place at the right time and picked up a Summerside A. Rare badges are still around.

FIRST LUTHERAN SCOUT TROOP IN DOMINION

The boys of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Hanover, have organized a Boy Scout Troop and it is stated at the Boy Scout Association headquarters that this will be the first Lutheran Scout Troop in Canada. Mr. A. E. Paddon, Field Secretary, of the Scout Association assisted Rev. E. Sterz in starting the work. Mr. Arthur Carvell was secured as Scoutmaster and under his able and enthusiastic leadership the boys are making fine progress in acquiring Scout-lore. Karl Thoms is Assistant Scoutmaster, and the Patrol Leaders are George Metzger, Harold Winkler, and Jack Huemiller. Twenty boys have helped to organize, with others ready to join. The boys have been active since October and several interesting hikes have been made. The regular meeting is held every Monday night. By selling Bible-text calendars and Christmas-trees, and by weekly dues the lads are raising funds for equipment. It has already been announced from Scout Headquarters that these Lutheran Scouts will wear the Luther coat-of-arms as a distinctive emblem on their neckerchiefs.

Badge Chatter

Greetings from the cataloguer! This issue I have heard from Justin Chenier, Chris Tickner, Mike Assef, Steve Kavanagh, Michael Diegel, George Cartwright and Ed Ermel regarding new finds.

The answers to the photo quizz in the last Badge Chatter was Toronto or better yet Skyline for the first picture. The Second picture was St. Margarets Bay in Nova Scotia. A toughie. The response to these has not been overwhelming so I am going to stop doing this unless I get feedback saying yes, keep doing it.

We have a first for Canada. A Big Creek corded ribbon badge is a new find. That is a term that is used by the International Badgers Club when referring to old British ribbons (mostly county ribbons) that have horizontal ribs rather than being a smooth ribbon. Well now we have one here – wish I had it! Not only do we have it as a badge but, as well, there is another on a uniform-I like that kind of provenance.

To be extra clear on the new Council issues I am showing some of the new listing next to the previous one so you can more easily compare the difference.

For those who want to collect everything I am showing a new Tri-Shores on the right that will not be listed but the writing is a wee bit smaller than the most recent listed (ONT 7D).

While it is not a new listing we did change the description of the Catholic Scout badge (National 30). This was to clarify that prior to the badge being available nationally and hence prior to being able to list there was a (less common) smaller badge. That non-listed badge is shown below; if more information becomes available we are always prepared to re-look at the decision. Here is the badge.

The Ontario Loyalist Badge is an interesting one with the new L9D shown on the right and it is obviously darker than the C version. I find it interesting because when you look at the front and the back closely the difference is probably a result of a different cloth that the badge is printed on rather than anything else. But different it is.

Mike Assef is a good scout in more ways than one and he has come up with some interesting, currently non-listed, Ontario issues.

This badge appears to be a cross between ONT 1A with the red scout emblem and 1B with the dark background but not the tan scout emblem. I find it odd that this has shown up now if it was in fact used in Ontario. Does anyone else have it or know anything about it? Who knows, it might eventually become listed but at the moment it seems to be a one-off. Have any of our Ottawa museum members (Ursula?) seen it on one of the display uniforms?

ed. This exact badge is Lot 58 in the DCMSM&A online auction for this year. Kindly donated to us from the estate of John Witham. Happy bidding.

This badge used to be in Glen Wright's trade book – at least I recall seeing it there. But now another of Mike's badges. It reminds me of a cross between an ONT 1D and 1E but of course it is not a shield shape. So a complete mystery and it appears, at this point, to be one off. Does anyone know anything about it?

Looking through eBay and other sites I sometimes see badges mis-labelled. Often it is understandable why, quite often related to a misunderstanding in what is light or dark or yellow or orange or gold etc. Here are two from BC that often come up and I think the badges speak for themselves.

The Yellow of the Burnaby Southview A is obviously different from the light orange of the B version when you see them side by side.

And above the gray background of the Burnaby Stride A variety is very different from the white background of the hard-to-get B variety.

I thank all who bring new badges or badge questions to my attention. Keep it up! Please contact me with your finds or answers to questions at: ennisgl@telus.net.

I want to thank once again the Club's Regional Reps; Michael Diegel, Chris Wootton, Steve Kavanagh, Robert Schmitt, Don Connors, Rheal Duchesne and Frank Smith.

The decision of the Executive shall become effective immediately upon notification being given to the member in question by registered mail. - 2. I will return all items that do not belong to me.
- 3. No trade is complete until both parties are satisfied.

4.3 Any member whose actions, behavior or activities are deemed to bring discredit or damage to the Club may be expelled by unanimous vote of the Executive as outlined in section 4.0 above.

The president must place the appeal on the agenda of the next general or extraordinary meeting. Notice of the intended appeal must be published in an issue of the Club magazine mailed at least 30 days prior to any meeting at which the appeal is to be heard.

Any penalty that is imposed by the Executive under these bylaws shall remain in effect until an appeal overrules the Executive's decision at a general or extraordinary meeting of the Club. However, any attempt on the part of the president or editor to subvert or delay an appeal shall be considered as grounds to lift the penalty until that appeal is heard.

5.0 The Executive shall consist of the following: President, Past President, Vice President, Secretary/Treasurer, Editor, Cataloguer and Internet Webmaster. These officers are to be elected at a general or extraordinary meeting of the Club and may serve for no longer than four years without reelection.
